

CRITICAL WORLD ISSUES PROJECT

As the world grows increasingly interdependent, it is important to understand the critical world issues that affect our lives and those of other peoples throughout the world. This project is designed to help you grow in that understanding. Although it is likely that your research will be done in connection with a social studies or English class, if you complete an assignment in another class that demonstrates knowledge of a critical world issue, it can be submitted to meet this requirement. You may also do an independent outside project on your own. If you choose this option, it must be approved BEFOREHAND by a faculty member. The faculty member must sign this form indicating PRIOR approval and must also sign off on the completion of the project.

This cover sheet must be attached to your project.
