

SENIOR ISSUE 2007

TITAN SHIELD

June 8, 2007

Dear Seniors,

These four years together (and more) have been full of triumphs and setbacks, but our class as individuals have weathered the storms and from them emerged better, stronger, and ready to take on whatever lies ahead. As staff members of the newspaper it has been our pleasure to report on the stories and memories that have defined the high school experience, ranging from athletics to academics to performing arts. Remember that first day of school, when we wandered, bewildered, into the school auditorium and marveled at the confidence exuded by the seniors? Remember running down the aisles of the auditorium on the first day this year and, in our turn, serving as the elders, the representatives of the school's spirit? And what about the late-night commiserating amidst the torment of college applications? Can anyone really fail to recall the solemn majesty and lasting beauty of Yosemite? Who could forget dancing under the blacklights at First Trance Dance? Experiences like these, and many more, too numerous to name and too nuanced to describe have influenced us in ways both manifest to the naked eye and imperceptible except by those who truly know us. Here's to the hope that college is just as enriching, both mentally and emotionally. Congratulations on reaching the end of our high school journey, and best of luck in college and beyond.

Sincerely,
Titan Shield Seniors

Target Background

Target #1: Heather Wong (Female, Asian, 18)

"Summer after freshman year, I bet Dennis Xu that I could make him a prettier girl than he was a boy. So, purple skirt + tight duck tape on boobs= Dennis in drag."

Dennis Xu

Target #2: Pierre Liu (Male, Asian, 18)

"During freshman year, I was hanging out with the Genyks at their house along with Lazz and Dennis. For some reason, Yuri brought out whipped cream and put it on his nipples. Percy mowed the lawn and played his sax in his speedo."

Target #3: Michael Chen (Male, Asian, 18)

"I remember when Vicki counted off the planets of the Sun as 'January, February, March...' And then she figured out what she did wrong."

Target #4: Jennifer Kellogg (Female, White, 18)

"Mr. Irie's fifth period AP Gov/ Econ class. Enough said."

TEACHER: Mr. Dave Irie

Target #5: Libby Wright (Female, White, 18)

"Senior year, the cheer squad stayed up TPing the houses of the football players for Homecoming-then took the SATs the next morning on no sleep."

[SENIOR SPORTS]

2006-2007

Dear readers, this issue we decided to give Joseph Quan and Nicholas Adams-Cohen a page to themselves. This is the end result.

OMG COLLEGE IS HARD!!!!!!!!!!!!

Here are some rules to helps you.

Rules for Move-in day:

1. Just bring the essentials: a Nintendo Wii, your Guitar Hero guitars, and a Hi-Def television. Items such as toothbrushes, textbooks, and extra clothing are optional.
2. Form quick judgments of your roommates after meeting them for the first 10 seconds and live with these conceptions the rest of the year. If they smell bad, they will probably steal from you. This also applies if they wear sunglasses indoors.
3. Do not bring any mattress protectors or sheets; colleges regularly clean their facilities and will provide all supplies for you. What else do you think the butler is for?
4. Paint your room black to facilitate positive thinking. Also post up those inspirational posters English teachers put in their room. They will make your roommate think you're fashionable and care about school!
5. Why call the bottom bunk or the top bunk when you can have both? Put them both together on the floor for a king size bed. Your roommate can sleep in the bathtub.

Rules for Classrooms:

1. Never show up to lectures; they impede the learning process, unlike Sparknotes.
2. Do not sign up for classes; this shows weakness and timidity. Instead, insist on enrolling in any class you want whenever you want.
3. Find a smart person who takes notes and does homework and immediately take compromising pictures of them. Now, use these as blackmail evidence, and you will have an easy time getting through that class.
4. Unlike high school, nobody really cares about cheating in college. Go ahead, stand up in the middle of a final and walk throughout the classroom until you find the answer to the dreaded question number six.
5. If you go to UC Berkeley, touch the gate.

Social Scene:

1. If you're going to attend UC Irvine this upcoming fall, become friends with Dennis Kwan. For those of you who don't know him (yeah right), he is a social butterfly who will be your pass into all the best parties and Wushu tournaments.
2. If you're not lucky enough to have such an amazing friend, you can get amazing deals on Craigslist.
3. Learn pick up lines like: Are you tired? Cause you've been walking through my mind all day. For Fady: I wish I were your derivative, so I could be tangent to your curves. Does this rag smell like chloroform to you?
4. There is nothing cooler than a college student who is a level 75 Orc Shaman. Tell everyone how long your chain-lightning is and how large your broadsword is.
