

Coaches Meeting #2

March 24, 2008

Athletic Quote

“It would have been a lot easier for me in college, to have been a football player and slack off as a student or to have been just a student and left football for some other day and time. But it wouldn’t have been as much fun or as rich or quite candidly, as humbling to have been one without the other. I’m convinced that I had the best of both worlds.”

“The reality is that amateur sports have a lot more to do with learning than winning. Student athletes learn more than most people, the blessings and lasting pleasure of camaraderie and shared sacrifice, collective responsibility and commitment to excellence, both time management and life management.”

● Peyton Manning
